Mischievous Bent Boys and Girls Do Much Damage to Convention Hall; Girl Kicks Out Pane of Glass

A number of rolls of toilet paper were scattered all over the building and it took the janitor three hours to clean up the mess.

All the electric light globes were stolen out of the dressing rooms.

In addition to this some acts were committed that are undignified and that would cause a gasp of horror to even the most hardened parents if they knew what their children had been up to.

Scotched at Elders.

Any number of minor depredations were committed. Whenever anyone collected with the hall attempted to reprimand the erring youngsters they would be met with insults and shouts of "Ah get out this ain't your building" or "You'd better not hit me or my daddy get you".

A large quantity of the children were well behaved, of course, but those who were up to mischief were a serious reflection upon their parents.

The city doubted the use of the building and employed extra help for the entertainments. In addition to this they are out about two hundred dollars for the damage done by the mischievous youngsters.

Otherwise the affair was a great success.
